

There is No Night in My Heart

By Susan K Hawthorne

1. Have I lost some ground today,
And have I thrown sweet things away?
What demons have I let hold sway
To push my head around?
And where does this all drive me to?
I hope it drives me straight to You.
Oh, take Your winsome Word
And waste no time in breaking through.

There's a light inside of me that won't go out,
When I stop and think, I know what I'm about.

Chorus 1 :

There is no night in my heart.
There is Your light in my heart.
No matter what life takes from me,
My Friend has sealed my destiny.
Darkness has no claim on me;
The Light of Life has set me free.
My Lord will chase the shadows from my heart.
There's no night can linger in my heart.

2. Have I let my feelings show,
To let my waiting Savior know
I saw the ways He loved me so
And got me through the day?
And how have I let things crowd in
To steal what should belong to Him?
I need to offer back in thanks
The life He died to win.

There's a light inside of me that won't go out.
When I stop and think, I know what I'm about.

Chorus 2: There is no night in my heart.
There is Your light in my heart.
I haven't had enough of You.
I'll wait and let your voice speak through.
Darkness has no claim on me;
The Light of Life has set me free.
My Friend, come set the table of my heart.
Only You can linger in my heart.

3. Is there some place close to You
Where Satan's arrows can't pierce through,
And didn't You, who know me,
Face temptations as a man?
And how can I keep walking free,
And not be like the Enemy?
Oh, come, my King of Everything
And grow Your joy in me.

There's a love inside of me that can't say "nay"
When I see your Perfect Day swift on the way.

Chorus 3: There is no night in my heart.
There is Your light in my heart.
I will not let the night pretend.
I won't let life's destroyer rend,
Darkness has no claim on me;
The Lord of Life has set me free.
Your light can hold full sway within my heart.
For I know that I am coming to Your heart.
(Oh, to Your heart, to your heart.)
